NITBF launches dedicated website for IV Commonwealth Tenpin Bowling Championship

The Organising Committee of the IV Commonwealth Tenpin Bowling Championships has today announced that the official website for this year's Championships has been launched, and can be accessed at www.ctbc2008.com.

The site provides a comprehensive overview of the forthcoming tournament and a fascinating insight into the wide variety of attractions and entertainment available in and around Belfast. It includes glimpses of outstanding scenery and useful travel and tourism information about Belfast and Northern Ireland whose friendly people, and their humour, are renowned.

Details of the Championship schedule, venue, official hotel and contact information for the Organising Committee, led by NITBF President, Billy Beattie, are readily available via this new site, which also launches the striking logo that will be featured throughout the Championships from 22-30 November 2008.
